Tiers — Brand Content

ZNAS × Fylo

Month-to-Month Marketing Retainer • 2026

Prepared by ZNAS for Fylo

ZNAS LLC | Arizona, USA | Confidential

Marketing Tiers — Brand Content

This document details what's included at each marketing tier. Marketing runs as a month-to-month retainer, separate from the platform build. Each tier is deliverable-based, and you can move up or down as your needs change.

The tiers below build on one another: each includes everything in the tier beneath it, then adds new channels and capabilities as Fylo grows.

Tier	Focus	Monthly ceiling (2026)
Tier 1 — Brand Content	Fylo Hero production: animated reels + growing clip library	up to $2,500
Tier 2 — Growth	Everything in Tier 1, plus SEO, social, and email across owned channels	up to $5,000
Tier 3 — Full Partner	Everything in Tier 2, plus a coordinated two-brand engine across Fylo and Farmville	up to $8,000

Each figure is a monthly ceiling, not a fixed fee — what you pay in a given month depends on the volume of work and the results delivered. In a lighter month, you pay less.

Tier 1 — Brand Content

up to $2,500 / month

MONTH 1 — SETUP & STRATEGY

The first month is entirely dedicated to research, strategy, and building the creative foundation. No content is published yet, this phase exists so that everything produced from Month 2 onward is built on a clear direction.

- Fylo Hero brand identity — we define who Fylo Hero is: his personality, how he speaks, what he says and never says, his tone, and the emotional role he plays. This is the creative foundation that makes every reel feel consistent and ownable, delivered as a one-time reference document your team can use across every channel and every future piece of content.
- 90-day content strategy — a one-time document that defines topics, formats and platform cadence. Everything we produce from Month 2 onward is built on this.
- Validation reel — one fully animated 15–20 second reel that confirms the character moves, sounds, and feels right before we scale production. Includes all format adaptations (below).

MONTH 2 ONWARD — MONTHLY PRODUCTION

With the foundation set, production runs at full speed. Every month includes:

- Script development — starts with a brief monthly call where you share the educational idea or topic you want to bring to life. You bring the clinical knowledge; we bring the marketing lens. From that conversation, ZNAS develops the full script, translating your expertise into a story that resonates with kids and builds trust with parents. You review and approve.
- 4 to 6 animated Fylo Hero reels — 15 to 20 seconds each, produced from the approved script and delivered ready to publish.
- Format adaptations for every reel — each reel is adapted into every version it needs, included in the monthly deliverable: a vertical cut for Instagram Reels and TikTok, and a horizontal cut for the waiting-room screens at the Farmville dental office.
- Growing clip library — every adaptation produced each month feeds a reusable asset bank. By the end of Month 3, Fylo has a library of clips across formats you can deploy across the website, social, email, and in-office — without commissioning new content each time.

Value: a distinctive, ownable brand character that drives engagement with kids and builds recognition across every channel.

A note on scope: the deliverables above reflect a standard monthly engagement. Volume, cadence, and creative direction can shift based on Fylo's goals, seasonal priorities, or content you'd like to commission separately outside the retainer. We align on any adjustments together.

Tier 2 — Growth

up to $5,000 / month

What Tier 2 adds.

MONTH 1 — SETUP & STRATEGY

Just like Tier 1, the first month of Tier 2 is dedicated to setup and strategy for the new channels being activated. No SEO or email campaigns go live yet — this phase exists so that every channel launches with intention.

- Organic SEO — Fylo DTC — technical audit of the Shopify site, keyword research around the topics you've already identified, and setup of the content publishing workflow. Blog production begins in Month 2.
- Email marketing & DTC retention — full configuration of the core automated flows: welcome sequence, post-purchase series, and abandoned-cart recovery. Flows go live at the end of Month 1, ready to capture every customer from Month 2 onward.

MONTH 2 ONWARD — FULL CHANNEL PRODUCTION

With the foundation set across all channels, everything runs in parallel. Every month includes:

- Social media — @hellofylo — a monthly editorial calendar and scheduled publishing of 12 to 15 posts per month (2 to 3 per week), combining the animated reels produced that month with complementary static content: educational posts, product highlights, and more. This covers content planning and publication only — community management and ads management are not included.
- Organic SEO — Fylo DTC — ongoing monitoring and optimization of the Shopify site's technical health, keyword rankings, and content performance. Includes reporting on search visibility progress and adjustments to keep the site moving up in the searches parents actually run on Google.
- Email marketing & DTC retention — monthly review and optimization of the automated flows configured in Month 1 (open rates, click rates, conversion).

Value: Fylo shows up consistently across every owned channel — social, search, and inbox — while the Hero character keeps building recognition with every reel.

A note on how the channels work together: SEO compounds over time — it builds momentum across the first several months rather than deliver overnight, and we report on that progress transparently. As the mix broadens across content, social, search, and email, monthly reel volume flexes within the 4–6 range to keep quality high across every front.

Tier 3 — Full Partner

up to $8,000 / month

Tier 3 is where ZNAS becomes the marketing engine for both Fylo and Farmville, run as one coordinated strategy rather than two separate efforts. Everything in Tier 2 continues, and the additional capacity goes toward connecting the two brands so each makes the other stronger.

What Tier 3 adds.

- Farmville brand presence, powered by the Fylo engine — @farmvillepediatricdentistry stays active with 2 posts per week, adapted from the Fylo Hero content and clip bank already produced each month and re-voiced for the practice. Rather than running Farmville as a separate content operation, we amplify what Fylo already creates — educational moments, character content, and service highlights positioned to attract families in the Gilbert, AZ area. Content planning and publication only — community management and ads management are not included.

- Local SEO — Farmville — ongoing optimization and management of the Farmville Google Business Profile, including weekly posts and a structured review-generation strategy to improve local visibility in Gilbert, AZ.
- Monthly two-brand performance report — a consolidated executive report across Fylo and Farmville: what ran, how it performed, and the recommended next move for each brand — so you always see the full picture and the ROI of running both together.

Value: two brands, one strategic partner, zero duplication of effort. You run your practice and your product business — ZNAS runs the coordinated marketing engine that connects them.

A note on scope: the deliverables above reflect a standard monthly engagement. Nothing here is set in stone — volume, cadence, and creative direction can shift based on specific goals, seasonal priorities, or content commissioned separately outside the retainer. We align on any adjustments together before the month begins.

A Suggested Growth Roadmap

The three tiers are designed to build on each other — but you set the pace. Our recommendation is to treat them as a brand growth roadmap: start with Tier 1 to establish Fylo Hero's voice, validate what content resonates with your audience, and build the asset library that makes every next month more efficient. From there, expanding to Tier 2 activates the channels that turn that audience into buyers. And when you're ready, Tier 3 brings Farmville into the same engine so both brands grow together, with one team behind them.

Strong identity first. Distribution second. Scale third.

That said, this is a suggestion, not a requirement. If you already have a clear vision for Fylo and want to move faster, starting at Tier 2 from day one is a completely valid path and one we're fully prepared to execute from the start. You can also activate individual services from any tier at any point — whenever Fylo is ready for the next channel. There are no locked-in sequences here, just a structure designed to make growth feel intentional, sustainable, and worth every dollar.
